TRIAX launches all-new multiswitches

6-year warranty offered across a flexible, streamlined range

Hornslyd, Denmark, 3 February 2022 – TRIAX today announced the launch of an all-new range of multiswitches, guaranteed by a 6-year warranty.

Every aspect of the new TRIAX multiswitch range has been designed for dependability and with installer convenience in mind.

Stocking and selecting the right product for installation is made easier by the versatile functionality newly implemented across the range.

Features and performance match the most stringent demands and directives, with compact design and handy accessories to save space in even the tightest technical cabinet, for tidier, easier installations.

“We’ve designed a range of dependable, flexible and convenient multiswitches to suit the needs of today’s installers, with the added peace of mind of a 6-year warranty,” says Thierry Baumann, TRIAX Group Product Manager. “Our flexible features such as an Active/Passive terrestrial switch, flexible power injection on cascade networks, LED power indicators and equally spaced F-connectors have all been added expressly to make life more convenient for installers.”

The full TRIAX Multiswitch range consists of Standalone, Standalone Pro*, and Cascade models with an array of input/output combinations. An assortment of accessories including new amplifiers, taps and splitters is also available to complement the new multiswitches.

Dedicated project support staff from TRIAX regional offices across Europe and the Middle East are on hand to provide design services, advice or technical support at any stage of installation.

The new TRIAX Multiswitch range is available from today. Full details and specifications are available online at triax.com/multiswitches.
